

Make a Time Capsule

Sometimes when businesses or schools have a special anniversary celebration, they make something called a time capsule. They take different objects or news articles, place them into a special box and close it up with directions that it cannot be opened until a date in the future. Then, when the box is reopened, the items become a reflection of the past that brings back memories. Complete the following and start creating your own time capsule.

Illustration - Andrea Feeney

Name _____ Age _____ Date _____

Who do you fish and boat with?

What baits, lures and other equipment do you use when fishing?

What months of the year do you fish or boat?

Where do you usually fish or boat?

Why do you like to fish and boat?

With your answers filled in above, save this anniversary issue of the PLAY newsletter in your own time capsule, and take it out again in a couple of years. You will have many special memories to enjoy.

PLAY

Written by: Dee Fisher, Central Regional Outreach and Education Coordinator, and Adam Spangler, Southcentral Regional Education Specialist

Editor: Spring Gearhart

Design and Illustrations: Andrea Feeney

Photos: PFBC archives

© Pennsylvania Fish & Boat Commission